

Albuquerque – Ashgabat Sister City Relationship – Thursday, August 2

- Oguljan Young, Sister Cities Representative
- Capital of Turkmenistan is Ashgabat, which is Sister Cities with Albuquerque, New Mexico
- They are looking for people interested in take opportunities in Turkmenistan
- What they are doing now is sending professors from New Mexico city to teach in Ashgabat, teaching English there
- They also work on overall projects, they connect with people, learn their successful stories.
- They'd love to learn the library system. They'd love to work with Americans, learn from them.
- They would like to do things like faculty exchange or send faculties over.
- Downside: they do need to go through the approve process which takes a long time. They don't have youth exchange at the current time.
