In addition, the Immediate Past Chair of the Board of Directors, and the Chair of the Honorary Board Alumni shall serve as ex-officio members of the Board of Directors, but shall not be considered Directors and shall not have voting rights on the Board of Directors.

Section 3. Term of Office. The term of office for each Director shall begin immediately upon the conclusion of the Annual Meeting at which he/she was elected, or immediately upon appointment to the Board of Directors pursuant to the Bylaws of the Corporation. Terms of office may fluctuate somewhat in precise length due to annual meeting schedules as approved by the Board of Directors and shall be limited or otherwise governed accordingly:

- A. A Director who is elected as representative of the general Voting Members of the Corporation shall serve a term of three years.
- B. A Director who is elected as a young professional representative shall serve a term of two years.
- C. A Director who is selected as representative of State Representatives shall serve a term of two years.
- D. The Chair of the Board of Directors shall serve as a Director for a term of two years. For the avoidance of doubt, service as Chair for part of a two-year term due to the resignation or removal of the previous Chair shall not prevent a Chair from serving a full, continuous two-year term as Chair.
- E. The two Directors appointed by the Chair shall serve no more than two years and their term shall expire at the conclusion of the term of the Chair; however, any individual so appointed may be eligible for election to the Board upon the conclusion of their term.
- F. Each Director shall hold office until the election or appointment of the Director's successor, or until the Director's earlier resignation or removal from office.

- H. Any Director who has served on a continuous basis for two full terms of office, or has served as Chair of the Board of Directors for a full term, shall be eligible for election or appointment to the Board of Directors at or after the Annual Meeting following one full year from the end of the previous term of office.

Section 4. Eligibility and Election to Office. Directors of the Corporation shall be elected at the Annual Meeting by the Voting Members, pursuant to the Bylaws of the Corporation.

Only qualified, eligible candidates for election to the Board of Directors shall be presented to the members for election. Eligible candidates must be, and may only be, presented to the members by the Governance Committee. No other candidates, including write-in candidates, shall be eligible for election or be presented to the members for election. All candidates presented to the members for election shall be required to attend the Annual Meeting of the Corporation and participate in candidate forums and functions as determined by the Governance Committee; however, the Board of Directors may excuse the absence of a candidate at the Annual Meeting and/or any candidate forums and functions in the limited situations of a sudden emergency that precludes the attendance of such candidate.

To be declared eligible and qualified as a candidate by the Governance Committee, a person must notify the Committee in writing, which must be received on a date by the Committee that is not less than sixty days in advance of the Annual Meeting, must provide a current photo and brief personal biography, must provide a personal statement of candidacy, must declare to which position on the Board of Directors that he/she wishes to be a candidate, and must provide an official letter from a Voting Member of the Corporation, or an elected official, endorsing his/her candidacy. Upon receipt of all of this information from a person who wishes to be a candidate, it shall be deemed that consent is given to distribute any or all of the information to the members of the Corporation, general public, media and otherwise as may be related to candidacy or election to the Board of Directors.

A candidate shall be considered elected to office if he/she has received the highest number of votes of the votes cast for a Director's position by the Voting Members at the Annual Meeting. For purposes of clarification of this section, if seven Director's positions are available for election at an Annual Meeting, the seven candidates, out of all eligible candidates, with the highest number of votes of the votes cast shall be considered elected. There shall be no requirement for a candidate to receive a majority of votes of the votes cast to be elected. In the event of a tie of votes, a run-off election shall be immediately conducted between the candidates who received the tied number of votes that created the necessity for a run-off; however, if the Annual Meeting is conducted virtually, then the Board of Directors shall proceed publicly to determine by lot which of the candidates shall be declared elected. Upon the completion of an election, the Governance Committee shall certify the election results and present them to the Board of Directors, members and candidates. A resignation shall take effect immediately upon receipt of written notice or at a specified date; neither shall require acceptance.

A Director who serves as Vice Chair of the Board of Directors shall be declared resigned from office upon assuming the position of Chair of the Board of Directors. Such resignation shall result in a vacancy on the Board of Directors, which shall be filled pursuant to the Bylaws of the Corporation. The resignation shall not prejudice the new Chair's immediate election as Chair and position as a Director pursuant to the Bylaws of the Corporation.

Section 6. Removal from Office. Any Director may be removed, with just cause, by a two-thirds vote of the Board of Directors. For purposes of this section, a Director's violation of the Code of Ethics or Conflicts of Interest provisions of the Corporation, or a Director's felony conviction, shall be specifically among actions that may be considered just cause for removal.

Section 7. Vacancy of Office. A vacancy on the Board of Directors may be filled by appointment, by the Chair of the Board of Directors with the consent of the Board of Directors. ARTICLE XII- MISCELLANEOUS

Section 1. Construction and Definitions Unless the context requires otherwise, the general provisions, rules of construction, and definitions in the District of Columbia Nonprofit Corporation Law shall govern the construction of these bylaws. Without limiting the generality of the above, the masculine gender includes the feminine and neuter, the singular number includes the plural, the plural number includes the singular, and the term "person" includes both the corporation and a natural person.

Section 2. Non-Discrimination The corporation shall comply with all federal, state and local laws prohibiting unlawful discrimination.

Section 3. Fiscal Year The fiscal year of this corporation shall be a twelve (12) month period beginning January 1 and ending December 31st.

Section 4. Financial Review or Audit There shall be a financial review or annual audit of the financial statements of the corporation by a firm of certified public accountants as soon as practicable after the close of each fiscal year.

Section 5. Whistleblower Policy It is the responsibility of all directors, officers, employees, and interns to comply with this policy and to report possible wrongdoing in accordance with this policy.

The Corporation takes seriously its responsibility to investigate reports of possible wrongdoing and to protect any director, officer, employee, or intern who in good faith makes any such reports to the Corporation or to a law enforcement agency.

The Corporation expressly prohibits any form of retaliation, including (but not limited to) harassment, intimidation, or adverse employment action, against any director, officer, employee, or intern who reports in good faith a concern about possible wrongdoing and/or cooperates in any investigation thereof.

Any director, officer, employee, or intern who engages in retaliation will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination or removal. Malicious and untrue allegations of wrongdoing may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination or removal.

Any director, officer, employee, or intern may report any good faith concern or suspicion about possible wrongdoing. Although reports may be made anonymously, the Corporation encourages reporting individuals to identify themselves since anonymity may impair the Corporation's ability to investigate the concerns effectively. Every effort will be made to protect the reporting individual's identity.

Although reports may be made orally, the Corporation encourages written reports since these will create a record of the report and reduce the chance of a report being misunderstood. Reports should be factual and contain as much specific, relevant information as possible.

Ordinarily, a report to the Corporation of concerns or suspicions about possible wrongdoing should be made to the President of the Corporation. If making a report to the President is impractical or inappropriate under the circumstances, or if the President is the person, or one of the persons, suspected of wrongdoing, then the report may instead be made to any director of the Corporation.

The action taken by the Corporation in response to a report of wrongdoing will depend on the nature of the concern expressed in the report and may include a referral of the report to a law enforcement agency. Initial inquiries may be made by the Corporation to determine whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, the manner of the investigation.

The outcome of any investigation of a report of possible wrongdoing, and any other actions taken in response to a report, shall be reported in writing to the President. The foregoing procedures for reporting concerns or suspicions about possible wrongdoing also apply to complaints of retaliation for having made such a report.
